

Questions 21–26

Choose the correct letter, A, B or C.

Product Marketing on Gender

21. According to John, UK retailers who differentiate between boys' and girls' products are

- A. being forced to change this approach.
- B. only responding to what customers want.
- C. responsible for establishing a global trend.

22. Annie believes most parents prefer children's toys to be displayed according to

- A. theme.
- B. brand.
- C. age group.

23. When discussing Lise Eliot's book on gender roles, the students agree that

- A. Eliot has overestimated the influence of advertising on children.
- B. Eliot's book will be most popular within the USA.
- C. Eliot makes some valid points within the book.

24. In John's opinion, the problem of marketing toys according to gender is that a child's

- A. social development will be delayed.
- B. career options could become limited.
- C. academic achievement will suffer.

Questions 25–30

Complete the flow-chart below.

Choose SIX answers from the box and write the correct letter, A–H, next to questions 25–30.

- A. parental preferences
- B. technological advances
- C. physical abilities
- D. feminine clothes
- E. advertising changes
- F. unisex styles
- G. well-known figures
- H. practical reasons

The development of gender-specific clothing in the US

It was because of 25. _____ that children wore white clothes in the 19th century.

In the early 1900s, consumers were influenced by the choices of 26. _____.

By the 1940s, shop owners believed that 27. _____ were blue for boys and pink for girls.

In the 1960s, teenage girls believed that 28. _____ could be beneficial to them.

The 29. _____ of the 1980s meant that people felt pressure to shop for gender-specific clothing.

Nowadays, some mothers want their daughters to have 30. _____, as they did not have these themselves.

21 A

22 C

23 C

24 B

25 H

26 G

27 A

28 F

29 E

30 D